GALE IN NEW YORK

Wednesday's Hurricane Was Followed by Another Severe Storm Thursday.

RATE OF WIND 67 MILES AN HOUR

At Least Half a Dozen Men Were Drowned From Fishing Schooners Along the Coast.

One of the Cruiser Chicago's Launches, With the Paymaster and Others on Board, Swamped and All Went Overboard.

New York, Sept. 18.—Following Wednesday's hurricane came another severe storm Thursday. In New York city the gale blew at the rate of 67 miles an hour, which was stronger than Wednesday's gale. The damage was not so widespread, however, because the storm did not last so long.

Fishing schooners that arrived Thursday brought tales of disasters from all along the coast. At least half a dozen men were drowned from these boats, and it is feared that many more met a similar fate, as several schooners are missing, some of which are known to have foundered. Eight smacks, which formed part of the fleet, overtaken by the hurricane at Five Fathom Bank, arrived Thursday, but Sunshine, Daisy, Mercedes, Gaffney, Emily P. Wright, Orient and Lillian Fernald are yet to be heard from.

Among the men who were drowned were Capt. John G. Morgan and Fisherman Ned Peterson, of the schooner M. A. Baston, and Capt. Silas Latham and Fishermen Peter Barr and Lewis Wilcox, of the schooner Esther and Anita.

During the height of the storm one of the United States cruiser Chicago's launches, carrying the paymaster, an engineer and four men, put off from shore at Tompkinsville, Staten island. Out in the stream the launch was swamped and all the men went overboard. The paymaster had with him a satchel containing $27,000, but, according to the regulations, it was attached to a buoy. The lighthouse tender Daisy put out from shore and saved the men when they were almost exhausted, and a boat's crew sent out from the Chicago went in search of the money which, after a long search, was found.

The total rainfall Thursday amounted to .68 of an inch, making, with the 1.29 inches which fell on Wednesday, a total of almost two inches in two days. The storm wrought much damage in every direction.

In Staten island the wind unroofed the widows' home. No one was injured. In New York city the subway was flooded. Many of the workmen were injured and several of them received serious shocks from electrical currents. Several persons were burned with electricity.

FIFTEEN SAILORS DROWNED.

Two Schooners Wrecked in a Gale Off Damariscotta, Me.

Damariscotta, Me., Sept. 18.—Fifteen men lost their lives in the violent gale which raged off the coast during Wednesday night. The Gloucester mackerel seling schooner George F. Edmunds, in command of Capt. Willard G. Poole, the owner, struck on the eastern side of Pemaquid point and was smashed to pieces. Fourteen of the crew of 16 men perished in the breakers. The schooner Sadie and Lillian, Capt. Hardy, of Prospect, bound from Prospect bay to Boston, struck on the western side of Pemaquid point and had her bottom knocked out on the rocks. Capt. Hardy was drowned and his crew of two men were rescued.

SCHOONER ON THE ROCKS.

Five Men Can Be Seen Clinging to the Rigging.

New Haven, Ct., Sept. 18.—A delayed communication received from Westport Thursday night says a large three-masted schooner went on the rocks at Dry Reef Wednesday night. When last seen the waves were breaking over the vessel and five men could be seen clinging to the rigging. The name of the schooner can not be seen from shore and the tumbling sea makes it impossible to launch a boat to go to the rescue of the mariners in distress. The schooner is about two and a half miles from shore, and as soon as the storm abates an attempt will be made to reach the stranded vessel.

Stabbed in the Neck.

Leavenworth, Kan., Sept. 18.—Louis M. Caulk and Dean Erhart, prominent citizens of Elston, had a dispute and Caulk was dangerously wounded. He received a stab in the neck which may prove fatal.

The World-Renowned Restaurant Man, Expired at Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 18.—Maj. S. P. Gross, a world renowned restaurantier, died Thursday night. He was stricken with paralysis in St. Louis several weeks ago and brought to his home here. Maj. Gross made a fortune in the restaurant business at the Chicago world's fair, which he lost in the Kentucky restaurant at the Paris exposition. He retrieved at the Buffalo exposition. He had expected to conduct a restaurant in St. Louis. He was associated in business in Paris with Col. J. Hull Davidson, proprietor of the Ocean View hotel, Virginia.

Maj. Gross came from Prussia 45 years ago when he was 25 years old. He has always been in the restaurant business here. He leaves a wife and two daughters in Cincinnati. He once ran a restaurant in Washington.

JETT MAY CONFESS

His Mother, Mrs. Hagins, Continues to Make Overtures to the Commonwealth.

NOTHING SO FAR ACCOMPLISHED.

Prisoner Offers to Tell of All His Deeds and Implicate Others in the Feud.

He, However, Desires to Save His Uncles, But the Other Side Will Accept No Overtures Unless a Clean Breast Is Made.

Cynthiana, Ky., Sept. 18.—In the case of Curtis Jett, now on trial for alleged assassination of Jim Cockrill at Jackson, Ky., on July 21, 1903, John Patrick, a refugee from Jackson, Ky., and a resident of Charleston, W. Va., said that he was in an office across from the courthouse and saw guns poked out of a window of the courthouse and recognized Curt Jett as one of the men in the courthouse at the time of the shooting, and saw him come out of the door immediately after the shooting and having a pistol in his hand.

His testimony was fully corroborated by Riley Coldiron, who saw the men shoot and saw him come out of the courthouse with Bill Britton. Henry Strong, John E. Patrick, J. J. C. Baich and T. T. Cope, all from Back's office, saw the shooting and saw Jett immediately afterward come out at the front of the courthouse. The main feature of the trial Thursday afternoon was the testimony of John Patrick, who was compelled to leave Breathitt county by the Hargises on account of seeing the shooting. His testimony was good and he made a fine impression on the jury.

Mrs. Hagins, Jett's mother, still continues to make overtures to the commonwealth, and another conference was had Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m. with Messrs. Dan Hurst, Tom Cockrill and John Patrick, but nothing was accomplished and another conference will be held Friday morning between the parties. Jett offers, through his mother, to make a confession of all deeds and implicate others in the mountains in this feud and desires to save his uncles, the Hargises, but the other side will not accept any overtures unless a clean breast is made by Jett of the whole affair at Jackson, Ky. Nothing but a clean breast of the whole affair will be accepted and there is still a chance that there will be a confession on the part of Jett, as he thinks and believes that Jim Hargis and Judge French has deserted him in this trial, as neither are here. Blanton still continues the sole attorney in the case for the defense, and Alex Hargis is at present taking some interest in the outcome for his nephew.

STANLEY SPENCER'S AIRSHIP.

It Was Given a Successful Trial in London.

London, Sept. 18.—Stanley Spencer left the Crystal palace at 5 o'clock Thursday evening on a purposed airship trip around St. Paul's cathedral. After maneuvering for several minutes Spencer headed for the cathedral, which he reached at 5:30. At a considerable height above St. Paul's Spencer made a half circuit and started homeward against the wind. A strong wind from the south drove the airship northward and it was apparently making no headway when lost to view over the North London suburbs.

PRESIDENT AT ANTIETAM.

Monuments Erected to New Jersey Soldiers Dedicated.

Sharpsburg, Md., Sept. 18.—The monuments erected to the memory of New Jersey soldiers who fell in the battle at Antietam were dedicated Thursday in the presence of President Roosevelt, Gov. Murphy and other prominent men. After the ceremonies the president, with Gov. Murphy, Senators Keane and Dryden, accompanied Gen. Carmen, who commanded the Thirteenth New Jersey volunteers in the battle, entered a carriage and drove to various points of interest on the historical field.

Gen. Carmen gave the president a vivid description of the battle, indicating every point of interest. The president alighted at Burnside bridge, where some desperate fighting occurred; at "Bloody Lane," a scene of frightful carnage; at the beautiful national cemetery, in the center of which stands the colossal granite statue of an American soldier, and at the quaint little Lutheran Memorial church.

During the drive and discussion, which occurred about two hours and a half, the name of the commander of the union troops at Antietam, Gen. George B. McClellan, a citizen and afterwards a governor of the state of New Jersey, was not mentioned once. Gov. Murphy himself recalled this unintentional lapse. Then the president and his companions spent some time in speaking eulogistically of Gen. McClellan. Gov. Murphy warmly eulogized McClellan as one of the great commanders of the war and as a governor of which New Jersey had reason to be proud.

GEN. BATES' ANNUAL REPORT.

He Urges the Discontinuance of Post Schools For Enlisted Men.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Maj. Gen. John C. Bates, commanding the department of Missouri in his annual report, speaks of the great value of officers' schools, especially to the younger officers whose military education has been neglected because of active operations in the field. He urges the discontinuance of post schools for enlisted men and makes the suggestion that a trial for a few days at a military post is the best way to determine if an applicant for enlistment would make a desirable soldier or whether the life will suit him. He deems it important that the haversack should be carried by the soldier into action and never separated from him.

Gen. Bates recommends that the proper feeding of officers of the army and members of the press and military representatives from foreign countries during war or in actual service in the field when conditions are analogous to war, be made a subject of regulations. The number of discharges of men for disability, he says, is a silent stricture on the laxity of the physical examination to which recruits are subjected and he declares the employment of civilian physicians for recruiting work is radically wrong.

THE MILLER CASE.

Central Labor Union of Washington Takes It Up.

Washington, Sept. 18.—The case of W. A. Miller, assistant foreman in the bindery of the government printing office, who was removed from his position because he had been expelled from the local bookbinders' union and afterwards reinstated at the direction of President Roosevelt, has been taken up by the Central Labor Union of Washington. That body has sent to each of the central labor unions in the United States representing the entire number of organizations affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, a resolution adopted by the Central Labor Union of Washington, calling attention to the Miller case, declaring that the order of the president can not be regarded in any but an unfriendly light and urging organized labor to petition the president to modify his order "of no discrimination" and to order W. A. Miller's dismissal from the government service to promote the efficiency of that service.

THE MEXICAN VETERANS.

National Association Will Meet in East St. Louis Next Year.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 18.—The National Association of Mexican Veterans adjourned Thursday night after fixing the next national convention at East St. Louis the third Wednesday of next September. A reception was given the members Thursday night at the Columbia club. Letters were read from President Diaz, of Mexico, Gen. Fred Grant and Gen. Lew Wallace.

A CABINET CRISIS.

Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, Secretary For India Hamilton, Chancellor Ritchie Resign.

THE KING ACCEPTS RESIGNATIONS

Secretary For the Colonies Quit on Account of Balfour's Attitude on the Fiscal Question.

It Is Understood in Political Circles That the Resignation of Some Other Members of the British Cabinet Are Imminent.

London, Sept. 18.—The resignations of Joseph Chamberlain, as secretary of the colonies, C. T. Ritchie, as chancellor of the exchequer, and Lord George Hamilton, as secretary for India, were officially announced Thursday evening.

King Edward has accepted the resignations of Secretaries Chamberlain and Hamilton and Chancellor Ritchie. Secretary Chamberlain resigned from the cabinet on the ground that Premier Balfour's attitude on the fiscal question is not sufficiently advanced to enable Mr. Chamberlain to remain a member of the government without the sacrifice of his own views.

The retirement of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain was unknown and unsuspected in London until the official announcement was issued late Thursday night, too late for the evening papers. There had been much exchanging of political visits early in the day, but as Premier Balfour and his brother, Gerald, left for their home at Whittingham early in the afternoon it was thought that nothing would happen for a day or two. Late in the evening, however, the king's acceptance of the resignations of Mr. Chamberlain, of Mr. Ritchie and of Lord George Hamilton, arrived from Balmoral, enabling the premier's secretary to make the official announcement.

It is understood that the resignations of some other members of the cabinet are imminent, and that Lord Balfour of Burleigh, secretary for Scotland, has actually resigned, although the fact has not yet been formally given out. Lord Lansdowne, foreign secretary, left London Thursday night for Balmoral, whither Premier Balfour and his brother are also expected to proceed immediately.

In the conservative clubs Thursday night, the manner in which the crisis was projected was almost as great a surprise as in liberal quarters. Curiosity centers on the attitude of the duke of Devonshire, whose resignation has been fully expected. It was supposed by some that he would take the present opportunity of retiring from politics on the ground of his advanced years.

As to the reconstruction of the cabinet no great interest is excited, although the political prophets are already busy appointing Austen Chamberlain as chancellor of the exchequer, the earl of Selborne as secretary for the colonies, because it is recognized as impossible that an appeal to the country can be much longer delayed and the general opinion is that in the present shattered condition of the unionist party the liberals will be returned to power.

CHAMBERLAIN'S RESIGNATION.

The Manufacturers' Association at Toronto Expresses Regret.

Toronto, Sept. 18.—At the meeting of the Manufacturers' association Thursday night a resolution was passed expressing regret at the withdrawal of Joseph Chamberlain from the British cabinet. Continuing the resolution, which was forwarded to Mr. Chamberlain, says:

"The association has followed your proposals with the greatest solicitude and hopes your efforts to adapt Great Britain's fiscal policy to existing conditions will continue to be vigorously prosecuted."

J. R. ROBERSON, Chairman Executive Committee. Gordon Sulser, Secretary. WONDER what would have been the reception of a Democrat at the hands of Durbin and Roosevelt had the same ugly charge hung over him that now hangs over Taylor. It's safe to wager he wouldn't be given a refuge by Durbin. WHAT the editor of the Cincinnati Times-Star doesn't know about Kentucky politics would fill a big book, judging by some of that paper's editorials since the campaign opened. In his latest he has Senator McCreary taking no part in the campaign, when the fact of the matter is that no one is doing more to further the interests of the Democratic party and insure the election of Governor Beckham. OFFICIALS of the department at Washington City admit that a former Postmaster General is under investigation by the Federal grand jury in connection with the postal frauds. The ex official is said at one time to have been Assistant Attorney General, and it is said that considerable evidence with reference to his record has been submitted to the jurors by postoffice inspectors and others. The case is connected with that of a former law clerk. It can be put down that Machen and Beavers are not the only rascals who have been engaged in these frauds. THE KNOCKER! Let us muzzle him! There are men in this city, who get a living for themselves and families from the patronage of our citizens, who constantly talk against our town and community. Such men are a detriment to any city. Could a little enthusiasm and interest be injected into such ingrates good would result. These men have never been known to attend a public meeting which was called to work for the interest of Maysville. Let us muzzle the knockers and open the mouths of the boosters. THREE TO ONE. When I came into this office, at a time of great civil discord, with lawlessness and crime rampant, with the State Capital in the hands of an armed mob, and with the whole structure of our State government upon the verge of revolution and anarchy, I found the fiscal affairs of the Commonwealth in a disordered condition, and a debt upon the State of $1,000,000. As I have shown before, the Democratic administration, by its diligence and business-like methods, has placed the State in the best financial condition it ever enjoyed before, and has paid off before it was due almost the entire debt. I believe it is safe to say that in no similar period in our history has more capital been invested in Kentucky than has been during this administration, because it has been assured of the rigid enforcement of the laws. Kentucky has never been in a better condition than now for commercial and industrial development. Some idea can be given in this line by an examination of the records in the corporation department of the Secretary of State's office. It is a criterion or a pulse which indicates to a large extent the business activity in the State. Let us make a comparison from the records and see what they show. During the four years of the Republican administration there were organized under the laws of the State 860 corporations, with an aggregate capital of $36,668,730, and the organization tax paid thereon into the State treasury was $36,668.94. During the first three years and six months of this administration there were organized 1,792 corporations, with a capital of $99,602,795, and the organization tax on it which went into the State treasury was $99,603. The current six months of this term will largely increase this showing. The difference will be more than 3 to 1 in our favor, and it indicates that the business interests have great confidence in a Democratic administration. Even the firm of W. B. B. Knapp & Co., of which my opponent is a member, has prospered so greatly under this administration that they found it necessary to reincorporate last spring and increased their capital stock from $1,000,000 to $2,500,000. Surely he ought to be satisfied with the condition of affairs under Democratic rule, when he enjoys such prosperity as that.—Extract from speech by Governor Beckham. Notice, P. O. S. of A. Called meeting. All members are requested to meet at their hall this evening at 7 o'clock. Business of importance. GEO KING, President. Ben T. Smith, Secretary. Three men employed on the construction of the Columbus and Ohio River Railroad have been kicked and killed by a vicious horse during the last two or three months. Messrs. R. D. Wilson and Wm. Cox, who were injured in a runaway at Vanceburg the first of the week, each carried an accident policy in Mr. W. Holton Key's agency, insuring them $10 a week while disabled. At the present term of the Lewis Circuit Court the famous Seaton case that has been on the docket since 1859 was finally settled. The litigation was over the title to some land. Nearly All Counties That Pay More Into State Treasury Than They Draw Out Are Democratic. The biennial report of the State Auditor of Public Accounts, now being made up and sent to the printer, makes an interesting showing of the handling of the public moneys in the various counties of the State, says a dispatch from Frankfort to the Courier-Journal, and a comparison of the expenditures and the receipts make excellent campaign material from a Democratic standpoint. The receipts and expenditures in counties for the first year of the report, that ending June 30, 1902, show that but thirty-eight of the one hundred and nineteen counties of the State paid for that year more money into the Kentucky Treasury than they drew out of it, and that eighty-one counties had expenditures in excess of their receipts. Of these thirty-eight revenue-paying counties, thirty-three are governed and controlled by Democratic officials and five are in the hands of Republicans. The total net revenue from these five Republican counties is $84,318.48, while the total net revenue from the thirty-three Democratic counties is $1,042,773.22, showing an excess in favor of the Democratic counties of $958,454.74. Of the eighty-one pauper counties which that year drew from the State Treasury in excess of their receipts, thirty-four show deficits of $10,000 each or more. Of these thirty-four counties, twenty-seven are controlled and their business affairs directed and managed by Republicans, and seven are in the hands of Democratic officials. The table shows that the aggregate deficit of the twenty-seven Republican counties is $377,340.30, while the aggregate deficit of the seven counties governed by Democrats and Democratic officials is $92,120.93, making a Republican deficit of $285,219.38. One of each style, in the lower priced garments, you will find as you enter the store, all the more elaborate underwear is up stairs, which does not necessarily imply a climb for you, as accommodating sales women are ready to bring the garments to you for inspection. The old expression "What you don't see, ask for," fits the occasion. Some of these are easily distinguished, while others of equal, if not greater importance, cannot be known until the garments have been tested by wear. The substitute of inferior interlinings where durable Irish linen is required will not change the outward appearance of a coat—though it quickly makes itself evident when subjected to the strain of service. The coat loses its shape then, because the foundation is weak. This is one of many instances showing why it is safer and cheaper to buy clothes of a reliable make. For the guidance and protection of the clothes-buying public, we put our name in every garment of our make,—in fact we do more. Only the highest quality of materials are used in Kuppenheimer Guaranteed Clothes. They are shaped and tailored by master craftsmen, and with our system of inspection, we make certain that each garment is correct in every detail. We believe that all clothes of this make are perfect in materials, workmanship and fit, and each garment bears our guarantee of "absolute satisfaction or your money back." There is no safer way to buy and no surer way to get good clothes than to buy the "absolute satisfaction" kind. You can't get more for your money and in other kinds you may get less. Our buyer is still in New York. Has been there for six weeks. He cannot get away. He writes that the correct styles for this fall in Cloaks and Suits were just decided and settled this week. He has expressed us a few Coats in silk and a few tailor-made Suits to show the new styles. We like them very much. So will you. Have already sold some. Come and get the correct ideas. What we received this week:

BABY CLOAKS AND CAPS—Quite a variety. Mostly white. The Caps are under price.

FLANNELETTES—They can hardly be distinguished from the French Flannels. The price makes the distinction. 10c. to 15c.

OUTINGS—Pretty as silks. Buy early and get the exclusive designs. We bought these eight months ago. The mill from whom we purchased these sold their entire production in three days. 10c. yard.

WAY UNDER PRICE—Oxblood Striped Linens. Worth 50c. yard. A shrewd purchase allows us to sell them at 25c. That's what we call a genuine bargain. The quantity won't last long; the goods will though.

CANTONS AT LAST YEAR'S PRICES—600 pieces received this week. 5 to 15c. Everybody buys Cantons here.

Table Linens, Muslin Underwear, more Dress Goods, Danish Cloth, etc., are among the new arrivals.

Use These Spices!

If you have a recipe calling for a certain spice or for mixed spices, it means that the best is needed to produce the desired flavor. The writer of the recipe you use, had in mind only perfect full flavored spices; if you use the ordinary ones, results must be unsatisfactory. We have the better kind, the very choicest the world produces—and this is the kind you should have.
